

Aboriginal Collection

This special collection highlights works featuring the talents of Aboriginal writers and includes items from children's books through to biographies of famous Australians and materials showcasing culture and art.

Many of these fiction and non-fiction books have been written by Aboriginal authors, featuring aspects of Australian history, tradition, culture and dreamtime stories.

There are also dual language books and language CDs for those wanting to learn Noongar.

Visit Seville Grove Library - 78 Champion Drive, Seville Grove (next door to the Champion Centre) to explore the collection.

These items can be enjoyed in the library or borrowed for use at home.

We wish to credit Western Australian artist Sharyn Egan who created the amazing mural featured on the back exterior wall of Seville Grove Library and photographer Bewley Shaylor for the image used. Kaartdijin Mia means Learning Place.

Please note: Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people should be aware that this collection may contain images, voices or names of deceased persons in photographs, film, audio recordings or printed material.
